The Little Adventures Story

Jenny and Heather were moms with young girls that loved to dress up. Jenny ran a daycare out of her home and Heather would drop her princess off for playtime when she needed to run errands. Jenny's home was fun and full of adventure. There was sidewalk chalk, art projects, dance recitals, finger paint, spa days, teddy bear picnics, and a huge trunk full of dress ups. It was heaven for kids!

Princess Lauren (Heather's daughter) was not your traditional princess, she was of the "industrial" variety. Lauren preferred water fights to tea parties, running over walking, but most of all she loved to dress up! She didn't wear dress ups occasionally, she lived in a princess dress! The problem was, she could outplay and outlast any princess dresses available, and was usually the cause of their quick demise.

Princess Kelly (Jenny's daughter) was a traditional princess. She loved tea parties, dancing, listening to music, baby dolls, and enjoyed playing house with all the little kids that would come to her home. She loved wearing princess dresses, but couldn't stay in them long if they had any fabrics or seams that were itchy and uncomfortable. Which was the case for most, if not all dress ups of the time.

Heather and Jenny were frustrated with the fact that dress ups couldn't be washed. The fabrics would fall apart in the washing machine and many were made to be dry-clean only, an absolutely absurd idea for a practical mom. They knew there had to be a better way!

One fall afternoon in Jenny's living room, the idea was created, "Dress Ups Made For Everyday Play!" They included everything they wanted for their own kids. They had to be comfortable and soft, easy to put on and take off, light weight for all day play, and best of all machine washable! On that day, the Little Adventures brand was born.

Jenny with her ten children (just shy of the twelve she originally wanted), and Heather with her five (four of which are girls), put their hearts into Little Adventures dress ups. They love the journey and are passionate about their families, their employees, and their mission...making the best dress ups out there!

Little Adventures strong core message that "Childhood Is An Adventure!" is what continues to fuel their creative fire. They love seeing the joy in kids that are free to play, explore, and dream!

Our Promise

All Little Adventures products have a 100% quality guarantee and are made to be comfortable, washable, and withstand the vigorous play of childhood.

Our dresses feature a variety of fullness options, such as organza overskirts, hip puffs, and peplums. Our stretch velvet is soft, and accommodates a variety of sizes. Many of our dresses feature wrapped seams on the inside of the dress to prevent any itchy, scratchy, or uncomfortable seams from irritating a child's sensitive skin. Bodices are adorned with fancy trims, and fabrics add to the elegance of the dress. Our apparel grade fabrics and construction, including finished seams and edges, provide optimum comfort to the child.

Our brilliantly sewn dresses are made using soft, durable, and snag resistant fabrics, keeping our dress ups looking new at all times. We promise that your child will love them!
